

Whispers of Love – Thomas Anders

Waking up at night, and I feel alone
And I realize that you are gone
And reality is hard for me
Without you here
And I see your pillow that's white and cold
There's no one to touch, no one to hold
The night just seems so long, baby
Since you're gone
I was so blind, I didn't see
You were so young and you want to be free
You didn't hear my whispers of love
Whispers of love
Can you hear me?
Hear my whispers of love
I get up and I turn the music on
And I ask myself, "Where did I go wrong?"
And the memory of you and me
Is everywhere
Now this empty room just feels so cold
Need someone to touch, someone to hold
The night just seems so long, baby
Since you're gone
I was so blind, I didn't see
You were so young, you want to be free
You didn't hear my whispers of love
Can you hear me?
(Whispers of love) Hear my whispers of love
(Whispers of love) Hear my whispers of love
My whispers of love
Hear me
Hear my whispers of love
I was so blind, I didn't see
You were so young and you want to be free
You didn't hear my whispers of love
You didn't hear me
Whispers of love

Hear my whispers of love

Can you hear me?

Hear my whispers of love

Can you hear me?

(Whispers of love) Can you hear me?

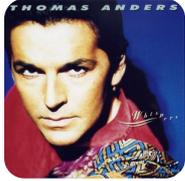

(Whispers of love) Hear me, hear me

Hear my whispers of love

(Whispers of love) Can you hear me? Oh

(Whispers of love) Hear my whispers of love

(Whispers of love) Can you hear me?
