

Perfect Love – Tina Bride (z wokalem)

Every second, every hour, every day
Your maginda may well make me wound away
There is something losing in this life that I call mine
Looking for solvating but I know it will take some time
I've been looking for someone like you

You make me smile, you make me feel so good
I spent my whole life looking for the perfect love
And know I finally found you I never let you go
When i hould you thight I know you're mine
I need your love,, your perfect love

Every morning, every noon and every night
My loving angels jumply flying through my sky
I asked myself if someone ever told my place
You're looking into my eyes and you softly touch my face
I've been looking for someone like you,
You make me smile, You make me feel so good
I spent my whole life looking for the perfect love
And now I finally found it I never let you go
When I hold you thight, I know you're mine
I need your love

The situation is out of hand, you need to understand
I never felt this woul all make some sense
Tried to feed you right away, and go back to yesterday
Talked about you with all my friends
I spent my whole life looking for the perfect love
And now I finally found it I never let you go
When I hold you thight, i know you're mine
I need your love
I spent my whole life looking for the perfect love
And now I finally found it I never let you go
When I hold you thight, i know you're mine

I need your love

I need your love
Your perfect love
