

Circling Hearts – Vaelissed

Soft reflections on the water of your eyes
Drifting slowly through
The rhythm of the night
Every heartbeat hums a shimmer in the dark
Holding on as shadows melt into the spark
I feel you turning in a quiet tide
Keeping my longing alive
Fading the distance between our lines
Catching the moment in time
Stay with me when the colors unfold
Warm as the memories we hold
Let the echo run through the sound
Where our pulses circle around
Through the silence runs a mellow heat
Two reflections bending where they meet
If the hours drift apart along the way
I will follow every trace you leave today
I feel you turning in a quiet tide
Keeping my longing alive
Catching the moment in time
Stay with me when the colors unfold
Warm as the memories we hold
Let the echo run through the sound
Where our pulses circle around
