

Anyways, I love you – Wild rivers

How can you stand how it's shaking out
When you're miles away,
Other side of the couch
Two stubborn flames in a paper house
You know just what to say
That'll get to me now
Sometimes it feels like
We're just down and done
We go too far when we should bite our tongue
Let's not just lose it all on something dumb
I've been here long enough, enough to say
That I love you anyways, I love you
Anyways, I love you
We both have made some mistakes
And it is what it is
'cause we're stuck in our ways
But there's nothing 'bout you I'd change
'Cause the things I love and
The things that I hate
Are mostly just the same
Sometimes it feels like
We're just down and done
We go too far when we should bite our tongue
Let's not just lose it all on something dumb
I've been here long enough, enough to say
That I love you anyways, I love you
Anyways, I love you
Anyways
Broken records sound the same
But still I find the need to say
I love you anyways
Sometimes it feels like
We're just down and done
We go too far when we should bite our tongue
Let's not just lose it all on something dumb
I've been here long enough, enough to say

That I love you anyways, I love you
Anyways
Yeah, I love you
Yeah, I love you
